

MORNING APPEAL

THURSDAY, AUGUST 21, 1903

The "MORNING APPEAL" is the only paper in Carson publishing telegraphic dispatches and afternoon stock reports.

A Firm of Frauds.

For some weeks past the APPEAL has been advertising a rostrum called, "A common sense Remedy, Salicylica," advertised by Washburne & Co., 282, Broadway, New York. As the firm did not pay its advertising bill we wrote to a reliable commercial house in New York and received information to the effect that Washburne & Co. were frauds of the most pronounced type. Several other Nevada papers have been running the advertisement but they will get no pay as Washburne & Co. never pay any advertising bills. As these people are frauds it is but reasonable to suppose that their medical Salicylica is as bad as the firm manufacturing it, which is putting the medicine pretty low. The APPEAL apologizes to anyone it has ever led to try the stuff.

The Carson Valley ranchers will have heavy crops this year.

One Thousand.

This is the name of a new compound made for beautifying the skin, probably called so because one thousand women out of every one thousand and one use it. It can be found nowhere in the State of Nevada except at Foster's drug store, he being the sole agent for the sale of the compound. No woman who has ever tried it uses anything else. It removes freckles, tan and all blotches and discolorations of the skin by putting the pores in a healthy state.

The Niagara.

The Niagara is now a regular mail and passenger steamer of Lake Tahoe. It leaves Glenbrook at 7 o'clock in the morning (Sundays excepted) and makes the entire tour of the lake, reaching Glenbrook at 1:30 p. m. and connecting with stages to Carson. It then leaves for Tahoe City connecting with Moody's stage for Truckee. J. T. TODMAN, Commander.

Livery and Feed Stable.

D. Circe has now a fine stock of fast and safe horses and new carriages and is prepared to furnish teams or single rigs at cheaper prices than any stable in the city. Horses boarded by the day, week or month and given the best of feed. A trial will give satisfaction, both as to the quality and price of services rendered.

Benton's Stage Line.

For quick trips to the Lake our new canopied, open-sided stage, is unrivaled. It will carry twelve passengers, and is taken at lightning speed over the grade with six spirited horses. Seats can be secured at the stable or Ormsby House. Connections with all the boats. U. S. mail carried Summer and Winter.

Olovich Brothers have special facilities for buying in the best markets and from manufacturers direct, for cash, are enabled to sell goods at lower prices than any of their competitors.

For the best hand-sewed boots and shoes for men, women and children, in the greatest variety, go to Olovich Bros.

Fine Photographs at Peterson's Art Gallery. Views of private residences and public buildings a specialty.

Prime groceries, teas, sugars, coffee, wines, hardware, Swiss cheese, Connecticut cider, at Muller & Schmitt's.

Ice.

Ice delivered to any part of the city. Leave orders at Benton's Livery Stable.

Draping.

All kinds of light and heavy draping done on easy terms and at shortest notice. JOE CARPENTER.

THE COMING STRIKE.

The Theologians Getting Ready for a Grand Lock-Out.

While the different labor organizations of the country are striking for higher wages and shorter hours of labor, there is a tendency in all branches of business to adopt the same tactics. On all sides we hear murmurs of discontent, and they come from no direction with more emphasis than from the ranks of the poorly paid spreaders of the gospel. Of late the warring sects have evinced a disposition to meet each other more upon the level of fraternity and good fellowship, and the Presbyterians, Methodists and Episcopalians do not turn up their noses at each other as of old. It is evident to the penetrating observer that the various denominational bodies are massing their forces for a general strike to extend all over the country.

WHAT MAY HAPPEN.

Some fine Sunday morning, just as the fall bonnets are all in line and we are all rigged up in our best clothes, we will find the church doors locked and 100,000 preachers in the belfry demanding an advance of salary. The Associated Press will furnish us with dispatches as follows:

THE BALL OPENED.

New York.—The theological lock out began here in earnest to-day. The doors of Old Trinity were the first to close. Jay Gould, Charley Crocker, Russell Sage and John Mackey were heading the procession to the church when the heavy iron doors swung together in their faces, and the sexton hustled them rudely out upon the sidewalk. Mr. Mackey, who had paid $500 in advance for a pew only the day before, was pretty indignant, and has secured a lawyer to institute a suit for damages. After leaving Trinity Mr. Mackey repaired to St. Patrick's Cathedral, where he also has a location staked out, and here also he found the doors closed. Jay Gould attempted to slip in the side door of St. Albans, but was rudely repulsed. Sage went down to the Washington Square to hear an outdoor preacher, but he was also on the strike. Mr. Crocker telegraphed at once to San Francisco for Hallelujah Cox, a sile-walk theologian, but he received word from Cox that he would stand by the Guild. The New York capitalists then held a meeting and decided to build a church on Wall street with a spire 100 feet higher than Trinity's, and have issued a circular to the people to help break down the strike. All the churches in the city are closed, and the streets are filled with gloomy predictions of the future salvation of Gotham.

CHICAGO STANDING IN.

Chicago.—The Catholic and Episcopal churches closed here this morning, and the other denominations followed suit. The strikers present a solid front, and marched down La Salle street in procession with banners flying and headed by a band playing "Rock of Ages." The managers of the several theaters were importuned to throw open their buildings to public worshippers, but replied that the churches of late years had been friendly to the drama, and they refused to interfere. Bishop Whitehouse and Dr. Locke were interviewed by a Times reporter. They said they would stick to the last. Their grievances consisted in the low prices that seekers of salvation were willing to pay for pews, and the multitude of trade dollars, with a market value of but 8 cents, which were thrown on to the contribution plates. The Catholic Archbishop said that the price of good theological talent had been on the down grade since the war, and the patrons of the churches wanted men who spoke Latin, Greek and Hebrew, to fight infidelity, run church choirs, and keep the highway to salvation in constant repair for $2,000 a year. The Presbyterians and Methodists did not strike until the afternoon, when they joined the ranks of the dissatisfied and will stand in.

THE STRIKE IN THE WEST.

Omaha.—The great strike of the preachers seems to have extended everywhere. To-day a traveling circuit rider of the Methodist persuasion was offered $100 to marry a couple whose religious views prevented their being married by a Justice of the Peace. He refused the money saying that he was bound by his oath to the Theological Guild, Branch Lodge No. 4 and would neither pray for sinners, baptize or marry while the strike lasted. The people of Texas, Alabama, Nebraska and indeed the entire south and west are without the means of intercession to the throne of grace, and the affair is beginning to assume a serious aspect.

THE CRIMINAL CLASSES NEGLECTED. Denver, Col.—To-day Sam Dorman, the murderer of a family of eight persons, was led to the scaffold to be hung and cald for a clergyman. None in town would act and the terror of the doomed man was pitiful. The Governor finally granted him a reprieve until some theological talent could be secured to make his last hours easy and give him a regular conversion.

THE DEVIL IN THE PULPIT.

Boston.—Ben Butler out of revenge for the pulpit criticisms in his proclamation attempted to conduct an out door service yesterday on the Boston Commons. He made a dead failure of the Litany and his oversight in not praying for the President has provoked much adverse criticism. His sermon was marked by utter ignorance of the teachings of St. Paul, whom he mixed up with St. John the evangelist, and when the hat was passed around it only got $2.69. The refusal of Harvard to confer the L. L. D. is now endorsed.

THE STRIKE SPREADING.

Monte air, N. J.—The workmen in the Doremus Stained glass works here struck to-day. Doremus is an extensive manufacturer of church windows. The gang of workmen who were just finishing the picture of the ark landing on Mount Ararat refused to proceed, leaving the ark stranded in the air.

New York.—The types in the employ of the American Tract and Bible Society have left their cases. The Plasterers' Union met and passed resolutions of condolence.

St. Louis.—One hundred people have been buried here during the last few days without any religious rites. The Campbellites and Westlan preachers have fallen in line. The Universalists will be ordered out to-morrow, and the Unitarian preachers say that when the word comes they are ready.

A COMPROMISE.

The Executive Committee of the Guild offered the following as a basis of compromise: An advance of wages amounting to 25 per cent. All choirs to be discharged and the money to go to the salary fund; clergymen to be allowed to spend three months of the Summer at sea side resorts and watering places and salary to go on; pew holders to pay in advance; all sippers presented by lady parishioners to be finished with soles and uppers complete; donation parties to deposit $100 with the rector as a guarantee of good faith and go home to eat; marriage fees in advance.

It is thought that this will be accepted as a basis of compromise and that the churches will be opened again on Sunday next.

Ready to Contribute.

The APPEAL a few days ago mentioned the fact that the Washoe Typographical Union had assessed its members $2 apiece for the locked-out printers of the Bulletin and Call, while the Eureka Union had contented itself with resolutions of sympathy and which the Leader says: "Upon the authority of members of the Base Range Typographical Union, The Leader states that the APPEAL is hasty in its strictures. The striking telegraphers and printers have given no evidence of lack of funds, but when they do so the Base Range Typographical Union stands ready to not only empty its treasury, but levy a substantial assessment."

A Detroit engineer says to the Free Press: "Tramps run most everything in this country, but they don't run my engine. The other night I discovered one of them lying on the track ahead of us and tooted for him to get off. He raised his head and looked at us, but never budged. We reached the next station on time."

George B. Cowing has made an average of 89 points, the best score of the riflemen practicing at the five competitive matches for places in the Nevada team. To the surprise of everyone, George C. Thaxter comes in second.

E. B. Rail has just received a large lot of goods from the East, consisting of fence wire, rope, hardware, crockery and glassware, also a large stock of fancy fishing tackle, lines, hooks, poles, etc. Guns and pistols. Drop in and see him.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Death of Judge Black.

YORK, Pa., August 18.—Judge Jeremiah Black died at ten minutes past 2 o'clock this morning. Though not unexpected, his death was sudden and a shock to the community. On Saturday morning he seemed somewhat better, but the improvement was too slight to justify hopes of recovery. An unfavorable change began about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and he gradually grew worse, but remained conscious to the end, and died peacefully. From the beginning of his illness Judge Black believed he never would recover, and was perfectly resigned. Mrs. Black, Lieut. Governor Chauncey Black and wife, Henry Black, Mr. and Mrs. Hernsby, A. B. Farquahart and Dr. Meissenhelder were present. Many telegrams of condolence have been received. The funeral will take place on Tuesday at 5 p. m. Shortly before Judge Black died he said to his wife: "How can I fear to cross the river when my Father waits for me on the other shore?" and added: "Would I were as comfortable about all I leave behind in this world," and breathed the following earnest prayer: "Oh, then, most beloved and merciful Heavenly Father, from whom I had my being, and in whom I have ever trusted, if it be thy will, grant that my suffering end and that I may be called home to thee. And, oh, bless and comfort me, my Mary."

The New Postal Telegraph.

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—Mackay announces the early construction of the postal wire to San Francisco, and all large cities. Two new cables are also to be laid. The Western Union officials here admit that Mackay's new venture is a most threatening power against Western Union supremacy.

The Monnerk of the Jungel.

One time there was a man that had a taggar, it was a show, and the man took the money for to git in. The man had a big paper nailed onto the taggar's den: "The Roi Bengoil Taggar, sometimes called the monnerk of the jungel. Hands off. No techin the taggar—"

The monnerk of the jungel it was layin down with its nose between its pos and the folks which had p id for to flet in they was mud cos it wdont wock, and rere like distant thunder. But the show man he said:

"Thats ol right when I git the new cage dun, but this is the same cage which the old feler broke out in Oregon; time he ew up the seven en men an their families."

Then the folks would ol s and back and t-k in whispers while the taggar slept.

But one day a feller who was drunk he tuk to punchin the taggar with the mas h d of his umbrella, which stampeded the ol fence wild, and the wimmin folks stood onto the chairs, and hollered like it was a mouse, but the young chap he kept a punchin the monnerk of the jungel cruel.

Bimeby the monnerk jumped on to his hind feets and shuckled it, self out of its skin, and rolled up its sleefs, and spit on its hans and spoke up and said:

"I'll bad am if I cant whollop the pea green stuffin out of the gumdasted g l o t which has been prod in this here taggar."

And he came down out of the back door of the cage an he lit on that drunk feller. An the adjince was antonish.
